ASSIGNMENT

- Prepare the Discussion section of your paper!!

- The discussion section should contain two to five paragraphs and should be a discussion of how the literature review impacts your topic. Go back to your thesis statement and be sure to clearly apply your literature review to your thesis statement. This is where you are allowed to discuss the topic and write the information you wish to share as the writer; you might choose to add practice examples.

  - So, now that you have stated the facts that you found in the literature review, the discussion is where you get to discuss specific topics found in more depth. Where literature review is a factual review, the Discussion part is YOUR scholarly synthesis/summary on certain important aspects of the topic you wish to elaborate further on.

- Make past corrections and submit the entire document (all sections should be complete and corrected now except for the Abstract and Conclusion; however, all parts of the shell are intact!). Only the discussion section will be graded in this module.
