

Johnson & Johnson’s rollout of its Covid-19 vaccine has hit another snag. U.S. health authorities Tuesday recommended a pause in the use of J&J’s shot after finding that six women who got the vaccine had developed blood clots and one died. The development comes after a quality lapse at a manufacturer recently affected about 15 million doses of the vaccine’s main ingredient. J&J shares added 0.3% Wednesday.

Performance of pharmaceutical stocks this week

Source: FactSet