This is a very well done paper. Good work bringing in both Smith and Marx and really thoughtfully engaging with them both. I thought the example of Foxconn was a great choice but I would have loved to see more citations pointing to where you found that info. Also, make sure your thesis is a declarative statement → it's the argument you're seeking to defend & explain so write it firmly and take a stance. There were a couple spots ^{that needed more attention} of clarity and phrasing and that's something that the Stevenson Writing Tutor would be a great resource for. Good work! I enjoyed hearing your thoughts
