

Ethical and Policy Factors in Care Coordination Scoring Guide

CRITERIA	NON-PERFORMANCE	BASIC	PROFICIENT	DISTINGUISHED
Explain how governmental policies related to the health and/or safety of a community affect the coordination of care.	Does not provide an explanation of governmental policies related to the health and/or safety of a community.	Attempts to provide an explanation of governmental policies related to the health and/or safety of a community.	Explains how governmental policies related to the health and/or safety of a community affect the coordination of care.	Provides an articulate, insightful explanation of how governmental policies related to the health and/or safety of a community affect the coordination of care. Provides clear examples of specific policies affecting care coordination.
Identify national, state, and local policy provisions that raise ethical questions or dilemmas for care coordination.	Does not identify national, state, and local policy provisions that raise ethical questions or dilemmas for care coordination.	Attempts to identify national, state, and local policy provisions not clearly associated with questions of ethics.	Identifies national, state, and local policy provisions that raise ethical questions or dilemmas for care coordination.	Identifies significant and relevant national, state, and local policy provisions that raise ethical questions or dilemmas for care coordination. Makes a clear and persuasive argument for the ethical implications and consequences of specific policy provisions.
Assess the impact of the code of ethics for nurses on the coordination and continuum of care.	Does not assess the impact of the code of ethics for nurses on the coordination and continuum of care.	Attempts to assess an inconclusive assessment of the impact of the code of ethics for nurses on the coordination and continuum of care, derived from a simplistic or cursory examination of implications and consequences.	Assesses the impact of the code of ethics for nurses on the coordination and continuum of care.	Assesses the impact of the code of ethics for nurses on the coordination and continuum of care. Draws insightful evidence-based conclusions informed by careful consideration of the social determinants of health and a precise and accurate interpretation of the factors contributing to health, health disparities, and access to services.
Communicate key ethical and policy issues in a presentation affecting the coordination and continuum of care for a selected community organization or support group, using PowerPoint or other appropriate software. Both speaker notes and audio voice-over are included.	Does not communicate key ethical and policy issues affecting the coordination and continuum of care for a selected community organization or support group.	Communicates key ethical and policy issues in a presentation that exhibits a lack of preparation, coherence, focus, or is off-script. Speaker notes and audio voice-over recording are absent.	Communicates key ethical and policy issues in a presentation affecting the coordination and continuum of care for a selected community organization or support group. Either speaker notes or audio voice-over are included.	Communicates key ethical and policy issues in a presentation affecting the coordination and continuum of care for a selected community organization or support group. Delivers a professional, logically coherent presentation of main points, facts, and conclusions, well-supported by relevant and credible evidence. Both speaker notes and audio voice-over are included.