Welcome to Week 7, when I finally get to read your entire thesis, I'm so excited! All of you should have my feedback on your transcripts by now. But I only see a few students who submitted their draft findings so far! What happened? I am still willing to give you feedback on them before your thesis is due on Sunday, just get them into me as soon as you can.

I have placed a PowerPoint on this week's quiz topic as an additional module 7 resource at the bottom of this week's content folder. And I will join you all on Thursday to walk through that material if you wish, as well as entertain any last minute questions about the thesis. That will be at 6pm EST on Thursday, December 3.

Our final Zoom session will be on Thursday, December 10. I am really missing the thesis presentations that were always a highlight of the end of the senior seminar experience, now that I am teaching this online. If any of you would like to present the results of your thesis for your peers via PowerPoint and are available to do so that evening, please email me and I will email you back with a suggested PowerPoint outline (10 slides or less). Because we only have one hour, there will be limited slots for this. But I look forward to hopefully a few of you participating. It can be gratifying to share your experience with other students in the same boat and to learn about the different topics your peers studied. My alumni can still recall the thesis topics of all the peers in their class. I look forward to hearing from any and all interested parties. Keep up all your great work, you are almost there now!
