Week 13 Assignment # 4 Interim Assessment: American Dream

Kristin Keenan • Mar 22 (Edited Apr 18)

50 points

Due Apr 15, 11:59 PM

Assignment: In an essay that synthesizes at least two sources for support, construct an argument about the American Dream.

Directions: The following prompt is based on the accompanying sources. This question requires you to integrate a variety of sources into a coherent, well-written essay. When you synthesize sources you refer to them to develop your position and cite them accurately. Your argument should be central; the sources should support this argument. Avoid merely summarizing sources. Remember to attribute both direct and indirect citations.

Prompt: The American Dream, the idea that our country offers everyone, regardless of background or circumstance, opportunity, freedom, and the promise of prosperity, is part of the social and cultural history of the United States. Consider the source material that we have already read:

- The Crucible by Arthur Miller
- "To the Right Honorable William, Lord Dartmouth" by Phillis Wheatley
- "Sympathy" by Paul Lawrence Dunbar
- "I Sing America" by Walt Whitman, in which he celebrates the working people
- "A Bird Came Down the Walk" by Emily Dickinson
- "Fall of the House of Usher" by Poe
- Coming Out of the Shadows speeches

The idea of the American Dream remains a part of our public discourse. Does our country still provide the promise of prosperity regardless of circumstance?

- intro- thesis (opinion of the possibility/accessibility of the American Dream ideal)
- Body paragraph #1- topic
- evidence
