

II) Ancillary Documents to be Uploaded into Canvas (100 points)

1) Presentation. Upload the above presentation, whether it's a PPT or Prezi

2) 5 Case Briefs. Upload one running document of 5 complete case briefs (same as above) related to topic in following format for each case. (This will probably be between 10 and 15 pages long). You may use ONE case from cases we study from the Dayton text, but your research is expected here to find cases. You may also do a cut-and-paste from cases you find on-line. However, remove any signs of Internet such as underlined and blue print—and be sure to cite all sources.

A) Caption. Title of Case (Plessy v. Ferguson)

B) Citation--e.g., 163 U.S. 537 (1963)—NOT the docket number

C) Facts. What happened? (This is the juicy part of the story leading up to the case).

D) Procedural History of the case. Where did the case go before THIS case? Procedural History is NOT required of each case—but be sure to see if there WERE previous cases leading up to this one.

E) Legal Issue(s)/Question(s) which this case answered. What was the [alleged] violation?

F) Holdings. Yes or No?

G) Rationale/Disposition. Why did the judge(s) say they ruled this way?

H) Concurring and Dissenting Opinion, if given. This part will NOT be in every case.

I) 3-paragraph response/commentary:

1) Why did I/we choose this case?

2) Do I/we agree/disagree with the ruling? Why/why not?

3) Why is this case important for educational practitioners and leaders to be aware of?

3) Specific statutes, provisions related to this issue—with commentary. You may do a cut-and-paste. However, remove any signs of Internet such as underlined and blue print. Again, do not merely list the statutes. Write about a paragraph of commentary. What did you learn? What surprises you or reaffirms what you knew? What do we especially need to know to avoid a lawsuit?

4) Additional info. Other material such as additional cases, articles, reports, texts of interviews, etc.
