

Week 3: Team Discussion: Research Methodologies

This week, you will be submitting individual annotated bibliographies to help build a foundation for your research process and develop your ideas. To begin the discussion with your team this week to ensure clear collaboration, explain the element(s) of the project that you will be investigating. What are some research questions you will explore related to your subsection?