

will lock-in my new understanding of questioning, researching, and annotating in the future by providing accurate and relevant information. I will gather information from sources that are credible and have examined the ideas they present. The writing in the future will be developed by various ideas put together that have been defended evaluations that will help me in writing the semester's final paper. ^{when I do research} ^{about my focused topic of ???} ^{My} ^{to} ^{that} ^{argues my topic of ???}

Bushfire Reflection

Writing this ^{annotated} bibliography has instilled me with skills that relate to critical reading and identifying the essential points in research. These skills enable me to solve the problem ^{have} as I can ^{since} analyze the primary reasons and possible solutions by critically thinking. As a researcher, ^{this assignment} ~~it~~ has assisted me in synthesizing content in a way that my readers can determine its validity and usefulness. I also use ^d quality sources as a researcher by evaluating the credibility and authority of my sources. I annotated the references well by providing brief descriptions and assessing the reliability of the sources. From the sources, I was able to relate various ways that the information from the ^{bush-fire} causes could be used in real-life situations.

^{Where is some reflective discussion of your topic?} The insights I got from annotating the sources is that I grew to understand each source on its terms. The annotation of the sources facilitated me to make a judgment of the information that is useful with regards to the presentation of ideas, ^{about the Australian bushfire disaster.} The sources facilitated a change of how I viewed some aspects before by enabling me to distinguish thoughts and information from my sources. The reading of the annotations generated new drive into the subject matter as they were informative, providing accuracy and the quality of the sources cited. From the annotations, I collected adequate information that was captured to defend the relevance of the sources. The additional revisions ^{that} I would make in the annotated document ^s are to compare the information in the sources in order of significance. This would facilitate the annotation to have quality ^{about ???} sources that present the important ideas in the sources with the ability to change perspectives, I ^{strategy} ^{of the disastrous Australian bushfire} ^{about ??? what}
