a starting point to develop your own report.

As mentioned during the seminar session and the over the revision lecture last week - I only want a one pager of the Technical report, covering one-to-two areas within your selected topic + a reference list. If you're struggling to do more than one area within your report then this is fine, as long as you've evidenced your report with adequate literature and used referencing.

Referencing - The referencing style for this exercise is numbered version. Please don't use any other style. In case you're using graphics, tables from other sources do ensure these are also appropriately referenced.

Word limit - the 600 word limit it only for the one-pager. The reference list won't count towards this.

The coursework guidelines with further instructions - You can locate this in the last part of the pdf file
