

5. What skills are needed to be an effective negotiator and mediator, particularly in a leadership context, such as the White House? What factors do you consider most important, and why? Please illustrate with examples wherever possible.