

The article "This Is Not About You".pdf and "Growing Older in the Digital Age" (found here: Social Media Readings 2.pdf) both discuss how our participation in using social media feeds our ego. What is the approach in each of these articles towards the relationship of using social media and the human ego? Compare the common themes that they both discuss, including oversharing and its consequences. To support your ideas, use examples shared by the authors of these articles.
