and do it their way.

Type of Education that can Help Achieve Freedom.

The freedom proposed can only be achieved through an education system that promotes critical thinking and creativity. Locke suggests an education curriculum that teaches children to esteem knowledge and helps them know and improve themselves as opposed to one that aims at teaching all that is knowable. "The instructor's business is not so much to teach a child all that is knowable, as to raise in him a love and esteem of knowledge" (Locke). Besides, education must be free from the influences of social and religious
