Question 4 (25 points)

Power has been defined as the ability to influence others. Sources of power include coercive, connection, reward, legitimate, referent, information, and expert.

- Please select any four (4) sources of power and define them, including how/why they can be effective. Please number each in your text so they can be easily identified.
- Also, for each type of power you select, please provide an example of a leader in who possesses that type of power. Your examples of the different types of leaders do not need to be limited to sport.
