

Term Paper Instructions for Christian Worldview of Leadership

Description of Assignment:

This term paper should reflect comprehensive thought and critical engagement with the ideas explored in our course. Therefore, utilize the following framework below, but apply your own creativity within this structure as you see fit. Your paper should engage with our course books and other writings you have encountered in your studies of leadership, and it should also include Scripture. Think about making a case with your paper.

Framework:

Students will reflect on the Christian metanarrative from Scripture of Creation, Fall, and Redemption, exploring how vital it is for Christians to have a strong biblical foundation to their worldview. (1-2 pages)

Then, students will select one of the three points of emphasis (Creation, Fall, or Redemption) and explore specific ideas underneath it that challenge and confront dominant spoken or unspoken worldviews in their domain of leadership (business, politics, ministry, etc.) (6-8 pages)

Students will conclude their paper with a brief consideration of how Willard's ideas from Chapter 9 and 10 of The Divine Conspiracy offer Christian leaders a way to build their vision of leadership from a specifically Christian worldview. (1-2 pages)

Rubric:

I will utilize the categories from the standard MAL grading rubric for papers.
