

Delusional Reprieve: a belief common to prisoners immediately before execution that there will be a reprieve.

Trusses: things tied together like chicken legs

Dostoevsky: man is a being that can get used to anything.

Moribund: terminal at the point of death

Prognosticator - someone who predicts something

Anno domini -AD

BCE- before the common era (BC)

CE- common era (AD)

Neville Chamberlain- prime minister

England WWII agreement wHitler

Ennui - onwee - sad

Obfuscation- to confuse or obscure

Heugenought-French protestat

Xenophobe - afraid of others who don't look like you

Bunker Roy-Barefoot College