

workers religious beliefs, family, and work. Your team is on a strict deadline, and bonuses are at stake. The local employees take a midday break for two hours for prayers every day. Friday is a religious holiday, which begins at sundown on Thursday and continues through Friday. Saturday is considered a regular day off and they do work on Sunday. The project is due on Monday morning, and the other employees are resentful for having to work overtime.

Using your textbook and the Argosy University online library resources, examine the key mechanisms of global integration and their implications for an organization and its HRM practices. Do the following:

- List the company's precise goals and objectives in relation to this project. (You may make assumptions based on the general goals stated for the team.)
- Identify internal (organizational) and external factors impacting each goal or objective.

Organize your analysis in a matrix as follows:

Goals / Objectives	Internal Factors	External Factors
1.
2.
4.

Present the matrix in a 3-5-page paper in Word format. Apply APA standards to citation of sources and support your ideas using current research and references to best practices. Use the following file naming convention: LastnameFirstInitial_M1_A3.doc. For example, if your name is John Smith, your document will be named SmithJ_M1_A3.doc.
