

Review the model and interpret its meaning before going to the CEO and explaining how putting the model into practical use will align with and add value to the organization.

