Cool Mate

According to the research in the class, the graph illustrates the characteristics ~~the~~ students ~~are most looking for~~ ^{desire or value} in a mate. The red line indicates the females, and the blue line indicates the males. There is little difference between males' and females' perfect mates. Most of the females, whom are 30% of the class, choose honesty as the most important characteristic in a mate. On the other hand, most of the males, whom are 20% of the class, choose intelligence as most important characteristic in a mate. No one selects attractive, rich, athletic, practical, and outgoing, so the students are not looking for these characteristics in their mates. Therefore, the most common characteristics are intelligence, humor, kindness, honesty, and family oriented.

The image illustrates poverty in Africa, kids appear starving, thirsty, and unhealthy. The picture is very sensitive because it appeals to the kids' emotions and feelings. They don't even have clothes. Their skinny bodies show the extent of their poverty. Moreover, the way they raise their hands implies they are ask for food or drink. The kids beg with their eyes. This picture is from a website that posts pictures of poverty from around the world.
