

Everyone should strive to acquire maximum knowledge to make the world a better place in all social, economical, cultural and environmental aspects. It is key in informing decision making in the world. It influences international relations. Without education, civilization would still be a dream. For this reason many states have made basic school education compulsory to ensure that their citizens acquire the basic knowledge for personal development.

Where is the WC?