

3. How do you avoid the application of a case opinion or statute that's unfavorable to your case? Explain why it's important that you be able to do so.
4. You're performing computerized legal research. Explain some of the universal characters you can use to make your search more effective.
5. Explain what headnotes are and why they're useful.
6. Describe what PACER is and what it's used for. How does one use PACER?
7. Illustrate what's meant by the summary of a case, including whether or not it can be cited as precedent.
8. Explain the difference between settlement letters and settlement brochures.
9. What does a judge expect to see in a memorandum in support of a motion?
10. Distinguish between legalese and legal terms of art.