

- This is my response to the third part.
- I think that indeed the black death ^{has} caused
- serious disruption in the medieval world &
- triggered ^{radical} changes. I think that the disease
- has caused changing people's ^{point of} view of the world.
- the change came mainly because the powerful
- institutions could not do their part sufficiently
- governments could not control the disease
- and neither did the catholic church.
- this made people question their religion &
- why the catholic church did not do anything
- ^{& this led to changes in the politics of churches.}
- about this. This also made people wonder how
- there was not a scientific ^{explanation for} this plague and
- so more people were interested in science in order
- to help evolve sciences to know how to deal
- with or possibly prevent future similar situations
