Interview with Person of Interest

One of the individuals whose life I am particularly interested about is Hassan Basurrah, a 25-year old cousin who used to live in Taif but now he lives in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. As much as I am interested in his Personality he is a well educated man, and he knows what he is doing, and what he wants exactly from his life. Moreover, if you ever sat down with him you will never feel bored because Hassan is a happy person and he is trying his best to make the people around him happy too.

Put your thesis here: the focus of your interview

Hassan already has a Bachelors' Degree in Computer Engineering at King Abdulaziz University in Saudi Arabia. Although Hassan is an excellent student. When I asked him about his GPA Hassan told me, "I got 3.77 out of possible 4" which is great because King Abdulaziz University is one of the good schools in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. With that being said, this is maybe have been his goal to graduate from this specific school. By the fact that he was always interested in the workings with computers, in which case computer and technology has always been his passion. When I asked Hassan why did you choose your major he told me that "since I was nine years old I was attached to the computer, and I think it is a big major Also, its really easy to find a job if you are a Computer major because nowadays everything is connected to it in one way or another." Indeed, right from a young age, since I know Hassan I remember that he spends most of his time looking into an old radio or television, and he breaks them down and
