AWARENESS - Your Ethics Awareness Profile

Four categories of ethical thought are used in the Inventory to analyze some of the characteristics of different perspectives on ethics. The category with which your Ethical Profile is most closely aligned, as identified by the Inventory, should generally reflect your beliefs. Of course, individual perspectives vary and this description may not fit you exactly. However, it can provide insight into your general views and approaches with regard to ethical issues.

The category with which your Ethical Profile is least closely aligned should reflect values that generally do not resonate with your views on ethics.

If your second highest score on the Inventory Scoring Summary is within one or two points of your highest score, you will want to review the second Ethical Profile to further analyze your approach to ethical decision making, and also the section entitled Blended Categories.
