

Separation of Powers

On at least two occasions, Jay's decisions not to act worked to strengthen the doctrine of separation of powers. In November 1790, the Virginia General Assembly adopted a resolution introduced by Patrick Henry condemning as unconstitutional Hamilton's plan