Elly,

You need a stronger focus or "Theme." What does your family life have to do with your writing?

How are movies related to your major? When did you work for the "company" and how is this connected to your writing? Be specific and give examples.

In the last paragraph of p. 3, you talk about identity - please explain this more.

Also, please be more careful in proofreading and editing your writing. There are too many small errors.
