At UD he teaches jazz history, American popular, jazz piano, and jazz keyboard harmony.

Eric Knorr is an Adjunct Faculty member in the Department of Music at the University of Dayton, where he teaches jazz and contemporary trumpet and directs the Flyer Lab Jazz band. Mr. Knorr is the retired Principal Trumpet of the United States Air Force Band of Flight at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, a position he held from 2001. While stationed at Wright-Patterson, he led Prism Brass, a large brass group he established within the Band of Flight. He also led the Wright Brass Quintet for over ten years, to include the first ever USAF brass group deployment in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom. He has been a frequently featured solo artist across the USAF Bands in the classical, jazz and rock genres. Mr. Knorr can be heard on recordings from the USAF Heartland of America's Concert Band, Offutt Brass Quintet and a recently released recording from the USAF Band of Flight's Wright Brass Quintet. As an orchestral musician, Mr. Knorr has filled every position within the trumpet section of the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra, is the Principal Trumpet with the Bach Society of Dayton and is a regular substitute with the Cincinnati Symphony and Cincinnati Pops Orchestras. He is also the adjunct Instructor of high brass (Trumpet and Horn) at Central State University and trumpet Instructor at Sinclair Community College. Knorr was a member of the Wright State University Faculty Brass Quintet for over ten years and is a founding member of Oakwood Brass. Mr. Knorr received the Master of Music degree in Trumpet Performance from The University of Akron, a Bachelor of Music degree in Trumpet Performance from The College of Wooster, and is currently near completion of the Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music.

Eddie Brookshire, bassist and leader of the Eddie Brookshire Quintet and Orchestra, has worked with James Newton, Johnny Lyttle, Elvin Jones, Sandra Reeves Phillips, Woody Shaw, Gerri Allen, Roy Ayers, and David "Fathead" Newman, among many others. His graduate studies were completed at Northern Illinois University. As an adjunct faculty member at UD, he teaches acoustic and electric bass and directs Jazz Combos. He also teaches at Sinclair Community College.

James Leslie is an artist in residence and the percussion area coordinator at the University of Dayton, where he has taught since 1999. Leslie is also the assistant marching band director, as well as the director of the University Jazz Band and Percussion Ensemble. He appears frequently on faculty recitals and is in demand as a clinician and guest performer. Originally from Warren, Michigan, Professor Leslie is a graduate of Central Michigan University, where he was a student of the late Robert Hohner. He is an artist/clinician for Ludwig Drums, Remo Drumheads, Sabian Cymbals, and Vic Firth Drumsticks and Mallets.

Dr. Willie L. Morris, III, Associate Professor of Music, is in his twenty second year as a member of the University of Dayton Department of Music faculty. His duties include teaching saxophone, coordinating the Jazz Studies Concentration in the B.A. Degree Program, and directing the Dayton Jazz Ensemble and the Flyer Pep Band. He also coaches the First Flight Saxophone Quartet and the University Saxophone Quartet and is Coordinator of the Music Performance Degree Program. Dr. Morris holds a Doctor of Musical Arts Degree in saxophone performance from the University of Missouri at Kansas City Conservatory of Music, a Master of Arts Degree from Stephen F. Austin State University, and a Bachelor of Music Education Degree from East Carolina University. He has taught at the University of Alabama and Alcorn State University. As a concert saxophonist, Dr. Morris has performed at 6 World Saxophone Congress meetings over the past 20 years and in Japan, South America, and China. He is an active member of the North American Saxophone Alliance (NASA) and has performed at many of the organization's regional and national conferences. He has also hosted a NASA Region V conference at the University of Dayton and a Region 6 conference at the University of Alabama. Dr. Morris has been a member of the faculty at the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp and has given saxophone clinics and workshops at state, regional, and national music conferences. He plays lead saxophone in his own group in the Dayton area and is the Music Director of the Eddie Brookshire Big Band. He has also performed with the Dayton Jazz Orchestra and other regional jazz ensembles.

Brent Gallaher, saxophone, moved to Cincinnati Ohio in 1988 to study jazz at the University of Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music (CCM) and has resided there ever since. In 1991-1992, he took time off from the university to tour with the Glenn Miller Orchestra. In November 1998, Brent also toured with the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra under the direction of Buddy Morrow. After Dorsey, Brent returned to Cincinnati to work as a freelance musician, private instructor and clinician. He is a freelance performer and can be heard with his own bands and a wide variety of other groups, including the Masterworks Jazz Orchestra, the Cincinnati Contemporary Jazz Orchestra, the Pete Wagner Band, the Blue Wisp Big Band, the Art Gore Quartet, and the Cincinnati Pops. At UD he teaches jazz woodwinds and combos.

Alex Norris grew up in Columbia, MD where he began studying music at the age of 9. After graduating from high school, he received a scholarship to the Peabody Conservatory of Music to study trumpet and graduated in 1990. In 1992, Dr. Norris moved to New York City to pursue a career as a jazz trumpeter. In New York he found work with the Village Vanguard Jazz Orchestra, Toshiko Akiyoshi's Jazz Orchestra, and Maria Schneider's Band. From 1994-1998, Dr. Norris was a member of Betty Carter's Jazz Ahead, becoming musical director in 1998; the final year of Carter's life. Dr. Norris has also performed and recorded extensively in the bands of Lonnie Plaxico, Jason Lindner, and with Ralph Irizarry's Timbalaye. He has worked with many noted jazz musicians, including Slide Hampton, Joshua Redman, Brad Mehldau, Chris Potter, Carl Allen, John Patitucci, Mulgrew Miller, and Brian Blade. Norris is very active as well in Afro-Cuban jazz, having worked with Andy and Jerry González, Manny Oquendo y Libre, Poncho Sanchez, and Chico O'Farrill. Additionally, in the Pop/R&B world, he has toured and/or recorded with Incognito, US3, Philip Bailey, Steve Winwood, Gloria Estefan & Miami Sound Machine, Jon Secada, and Dr. John.

In 1995, Dr. Norris received a master's degree from the Manhattan School of Music. He has taught at the New School of Jazz and Contemporary Music, Towson University, and the City College of New York. In 2007, he received a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Miami's Frost School of Music. From 2005-2008, Dr. Norris also taught at Miami. Norris resides in New York City and performs all over the world with his own jazz group and with Ron Carter's Great Big Band, the Mingus Big Band, Pat Martino, Alan Ferber's Big Band, Kyle Eastwood, Miguel Zenon, Amina Figarova, Michele Rosewoman, and many other jazz and Latin jazz artists. He performs regularly at top New York Jazz Clubs, including the Jazz Standard, Smalls, Smoke, Birdland, the Jazz Gallery, and the Blue Note. Dr. Norris has a new CD entitled "Alex Norris Organ Quartet- Extension Deadline" on Brooklyn Jazz Underground Records. He also has a CD on the Fresh Sounds/New Talent label: "Alex Norris Quintet- A New Beginning". As a sideman, he has recorded on over 80 CD's, several of them for labels such as Blue Note, Verve, Impulse, Steeplechase, and Sunnyside. Among his sideman recordings, three have been nominated for Grammy Awards. Dr. Norris has presented Jazz clinics at the Eastman School of Music, the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music, the Western Australia Academy of Performing Arts, the New World School for the Arts (Miami), Florida Community College in Jacksonville, Morehead University, Virginia Tech University, New Orleans Center for the Creative Arts, Howard Community College, Maryland Trumpet Day 2011, Maryland Summer Jazz, Baltimore School for the Arts, and the Tri-C Jazz Festival in Cleveland, OH. Several of Dr. Norris's Latin jazz compositions are published by 3-2 Music in Fresno, CA. Additionally, he has a video masterclass available on www.mymusicmasterclass.com.
