

Response #10

For your last response paper, you are responding to your own writing! I am returning your introductory assignment that you wrote on the second day of classes, back in January. For this assignment, you are responding to what you wrote then. Do you still agree with yourself? Why/ why not? What (if anything) has changed, and why? What do you now think of yourself as a writer?

This will be due the day you turn in essay 4, May 19th.
