

Dr. Billie Moore: Instructor

- _____ 69. Early in his administration, how did John F. Kennedy aid the cause of civil rights?
- a. He appointed numerous blacks to important administrative positions.
 - b. He allowed his brother to put force into the Justice Department's civil rights litigation.
 - c. He required government agencies to stop discrimination in federally supported housing.
 - d. He eliminated segregation in the military, the postal service, and the federal marshal office.
- _____ 70. How is King's "Letter from Birmingham Jail" an example of a strategic turning point in the civil rights movement?
- a. He justified the use of direct action as a way to force change to unjust laws.
 - b. He justified the use of violence in civil rights organizing.
 - c. He revealed he was converting from Christianity to the Muslim faith.
 - d. He foreshadowed his own assassination, noting that he was ready to die for his cause.
- _____ 71. To what religion or denomination did Malcolm Little convert while in prison?
- a. Baptist
 - b. African Episcopalian Methodist
 - c. Nation of Islam
 - d. the Peace Mission Movement
- _____ 72. What types of programs did the Black Panthers start in urban areas?
- a. programs to increase the prison inmate population
 - b. programs to educate people about the importance of experimenting with drugs
 - c. programs to instill racial pride
 - d. programs to educate blacks about white history
- _____ 73. What sparked the uprising at Attica Prison in New York?
- a. the murder of a black prison guard by white inmates
 - b. the rape of a white prison nurse by a black inmate
 - c. George Jackson's killing by a white prison guard
 - d. the revelation that a leader of the prison inmates was an FBI informant
- _____ 74. What was Malcolm X's view before 1964 about changing black people's status in America?
- a. He thought that police did not abuse black people.
 - b. He rejected integration with whites in any fashion.
 - c. He felt that real revolution would come only through peace with whites.
 - d. He hoped to work with the NAACP and Martin Luther King, Jr., to effect change.