

March 22

The teacher started the lesson by doing last lecture's homework with the students. I got a copy of the homework. I walked around guided last students. Then, after doing the homework. The teacher asked the students to turn their books to page 90 and do the task (talk about buying a property in a city) as a group. I joined a group and we started talking about the topic. Then the teacher asked the students to write what they just discussed. After that, we as a class took a look at the new vocabulary and repeated after the teacher to work on students pronunciation.
