

Research Design Comparison

Based on your healthcare problem, research two qualitative and two quantitative research articles that are related to your selected healthcare problem. Compare and contrast the research articles, specifically discussing the designs, methods, findings and current/future recommendations and implications for clinical practice. Format the table as follows:

|                                                       | Qualitative Research Design | Quantitative Research Design |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|------------------------------|
| Article Summary (background, purpose, sample size)    |                             |                              |
| Research Design                                       |                             |                              |
| Methods                                               |                             |                              |
| Findings                                              |                             |                              |
| Current/ Future Recommendations for Clinical Practice |                             |                              |